Do you want to travel placess but don't have the cash? Then a working holiday could be the answer!

A Cooking/Waiting

You might be waiting in a humble café or preparing food in a five-star restaurant. Either way, you will usually work long hours and the pay won't be very high. On the other hand, these are jobs which put you in contact with other travellers and, if you wait on tables, you may get a lot of tips.

B Working on a Farm

You'll definitely see something of the countryside if you do farm work. Duties include fruit picking, planting crops and caring for animals. Wages are low, but accommodation is often free. Unless you're already physically fit, however, you'll probably experience some aches and pains at first!

C Working at a Ski Resort

Your friends are going to go skiing this winter and you can't afford it. Could that be you? Then why not work as a skiing instructor? This is a really cool job in every way! You'll need to have a teaching certificate for skiing; if not, you can earn money by cleaning the chalets.

D Au Pairing

Looking after children abroad means you're going to have the chance to master a foreign language. The pay and hours of work vary widely, so you should check au pair websites where you can find information on the many vacancies available worldwide.

E Working on a Yacht

If you asked people what sort of holiday they like, many of them would say a cruise. If this is your dream, you might want to join a yachting crew. You'll certainly see something of the world and you won't be bored; your duties may include helping to sail the yacht in addition to tasks like cleaning and maintenance.
